Special Issue
Slowness, Untimeliness, Rupture: Queer Time and History in German Studies

Articles
Introduction: Approaches to Queer Temporalities in German Studies
An Ethics of Attentiveness: Photographic Portraits and Deviant Dwelling in German Queer and Trans Archives
The Queer Temporalities of Sadomasochism in Robert Musil’s Tönnies
Friends with Benefits: Friendship and Queer Temporality in Klaus Mann’s Der fromme Tanz (1926) and Siegfried Kracauer’s Georg (1934)
Untimely Belongings: Queer Temporalities in the Wake of National Socialism
Slow Aesthetics, Fraught Intimacy, and Queer Time in the German Queer New Wave: Sturmland and Neubau
Queer German Roots of the Alt-Right: Ulrichs, Weininger, Blüher—and Evola

Book Reviews
Volume 114
Number 3
Fall 2022

SPECIAL ISSUE:
Slowness, Untimeliness, Rupture:
Queer Time and History in German Studies
Edited by Kyle Frackman and Ervin Malakaj

Published by the University of Wisconsin Press